

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

West End Theatre marks spectacular Autumn return with exclusive London Theatre Week promotion

Over 40 West End shows priced at £15, £25 and £35 including Back to the Future, The Book of Mormon, Anything Goes, Disney's The Lion King, Les Miserables, DEAR EVAN HANSEN and more

London, 23 August 2021: The London theatre industry is going on the offensive this Autumn as it reopens following an extended Covid shutdown.

From today, 23 August 2021, London theatre's leading portal WestEndTheatre.com is launching London Theatre Week, an exclusive promotion covering over 40 sensational West End shows including The Book of Mormon, Back to the Future, Anything Goes, The Mirror and the Light, Mary Poppins, DEAR EVAN HANSEN and many more.

London Theatre Week prices are set at £15, £25 and £35 for West End shows, and the promotion is running for a strictly limited time until 5 September 2021.

A number of musicals featured in the promotion are brand new to the West End, including Roger Bart in Back to the Future at the Adelphi Theatre; Cole Porter's Anything Goes at the Barbican Theatre; Amelie at the Criterion Theatre; Get Up, Stand Up! The Bob Marley Musical at the Apollo Theatre; and Bring It On: The Musical at the Queen Elizabeth Hall.

Long-running, blockbuster shows are also running in the promotion, including The Book of Mormon at the Prince of Wales Theatre; Andrew Lloyd-Webber's The Phantom of the Opera at Her Majesty's Theatre; & Juliet at the Shaftesbury Theatre; Disney's The Lion King at the Lyceum Theatre; Tina - The Tina Turner Musical at the Aldwych Theatre; Cameron Mackintosh productions Les Miserables at the Sondheim Theatre, DEAR EVAN HANSEN at the Noel Coward Theatre and Mary Poppins at the Prince Edward Theatre; Jersey Boys at the Trafalgar Theatre; Heathers, followed by Only Fools and Horses The Musical at the Theatre Royal Haymarket; Come From Away at the Phoenix Theatre; Mamma Mia! at the Novello Theatre; Matilda the Musical at the Cambridge Theatre; and The Prince of Egypt at the Dominion Theatre.

A wealth of drama and comedy is also featured, including the highly anticipated final chapter of Hilary Mantel's Wolf Hall Trilogy - The Mirror and the Light at the Gielgud Theatre; Jenifer Saunders in Blithe Spirit at the Harold Pinter Theatre; National Theatre hit The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time at the Troubadour Wembley Park Theatre; The Windsor's: Endgame starring Harry Enfield at the Prince of Wales Theatre; comedy The Play That Goes Wrong at the Duchess Theatre; Agatha Christie's Witness for the Prosecution at London County Hall; Bach & Sons starring Simon Russell Beale at the Bridge Theatre; Tom Stoppard's Leopoldstadt, followed by Life of Pi, at the Wyndham's Theatre; David Mamet's Oleanna at the Arts Theatre; the RSC production of The Comedy of Errors at the Barbican Theatre; and The Woman in Black at the Fortune Theatre.

A wealth of stage and screen stars are performing in the West End's Autumn comeback season including Jennifer Saunders, Harry Enfield, Sutton Foster, Robert Lindsay, Felicity Kendal, Paul Whitehouse, Roger Bart, Ben Miles, Tracy-Ann Oberman and many more.

Luke Dillon, Publisher of WestEndTheatre.com said: "London theatre is doing everything possible to ensure that it comes back stronger than ever. This extraordinary promotion, which includes over 40 new and returning shows, is the most ambitious ever put together, and will see West End theatre roar back into London."

For further information and to book tickets visit: WestEndTheatre.com/offers

-ends-

Notes for editors:

WestEndTheatre.com is London's leading website for theatre. Launched in 2007, it has grown to become one of the largest portals for news and tickets on London theatre. WestEndTheatre.com provides thousands of special offer and discount tickets to London shows every month, alongside news, reviews and comprehensive listings.

For further information contact:
press@westendtheatre.com